

SHARE Future Projects Awards COMPETITION REGULATIONS

CONTENTS:

1. GENERAL DATA

“SHARE Future Projects Awards” were created to bring forward and promote the accomplishments in the field of constructions in Central and Eastern Europe. SHARE Future Project Awards aims to shed light on unfinished projects.

Architectural awards are offered many times for what has been accomplished. SHARE Future Projects Awards will highlight what has not been released yet but will be - architectural ideas that find themselves in the most joyful stage for those who built up the future, labelled as the “project”.

The international jury will propose and award the most valuable projects, supporting their development and drawing attention towards the near future.

“We will have the opportunity to observe and analyse the most provocative ideas that will come to life through the efforts of those who initiate, shape, and raise them up” - Florin Mindirigiu, SHARE Architects founder.

SHARE Future projects Awards are targeted to the trio of architecture and includes 3 stages of evaluation. The first stage consists of the selection of registered projects on national level by the commission or architects from respective national architecture associations. The commission will evaluate the projects based on its societal, cultural, economical impact on quality of life, in addition to the esthetic and technical criteria and compose a shortlist of nominees. The projects that are shortlisted will enter the second stage of the competition.

In the second stage, 2 representatives of the office will present their nominated project in front of a live international jury and public present at the national edition of the SHARE International Architecture and Engineering Forum. The jury will evaluate the presentations and select from the nominees the winning national project that will enter the race for the SHARE Future Project Award.

During the final stage, the winning national projects will be presented by 2 representatives of the office in front of a renowned grand international jury which will finally, select the official international winner of the competition.

1.1. The organizer
